

Juan Carlos Romero, M.D.

Professor of Physiology and Biomedical Engineering
Associate Professor of Internal Medicine
Mayo Clinic College of Medicine

Research Interests

My research interests include pathophysiology of hypertension renin angiotensin system, oxidative stress, and the application of computerized tomography with high temporal resolution (EBCT electron beam computerized tomography) to study renal function and magnetic resonance to study renal ischemia.

Back to Membership Directory

Last updated 9/16/04